Council Will Consider the Franchise Next Meeting.

ALL THE PETITION WAS READ

No One Wanted the Matter Discussed Last Night—Report on Street Lights Accepted. Doctor Marshall Has an Idea—Minerva Street Again.

The session of city council last evening was one of the shortest in the history of the body.

Council was called to order at 7:45 by President Purinton, with members Kent, Horwell, Marshall and Stewart in their places. The room was very cold, and after Solicitor Grosshans had lighted the gas jets, council proceeded to business. The minutes were approved and the ordinances establishing grade lines on Oak street and Riverview avenue were placed on their second reading. Chairman Kent reporting that the street committee had viewed the proposed grades and were favorable to them.

The street railway came next. As nobody said anything President Purinton said it would go over to its third reading. Mr. Marshall moved that the ordinance be carried over to the next meeting on its second reading, and as there were no objections it was so ordered.

A petition numerous signed by the business men was presented asking that the street railway company be granted a 25 year franchise. When Clerk Hanley had read about 200 names he turned around and said: "Is that enough?" "No, read them all," remarked Mr. Purinton. The petition was then received and filed, with no remarks.

The light committee reported in favor of the location of lights by the board of improvements with but one change, that of placing the light now in Sunnyside at the Christian church. Mr. Marshall wanted to know if the board of improvements were willing to accept the change. Members Kent, Finley and George, who were present, expressed their satisfaction with the change, and President Purinton wanted to know if there was not a light at the corner of College and Robinson streets, just 169 feet from the Christian church. Engineer George explained that it was very dark at the church and the present light was worse than none at all. Mr. Marshall then moved the report of the committee be accepted with the change, and all voted yes but President Purinton.

A letter was read from the light company asking that the lights be located at once, as it would be necessary if they expected to have them up by March 1. They stated they had been ready for two weeks, and also that they would like to have someone in authority to locate the poles. President Purinton said the poles should be located under the supervision of the board of improvement, while Mr. Kent suggested that the city engineer and the superintendent of the light plant do the work, and it was left in their hands. Mr. Marshall then moved the adoption of the report of the board of improvement as amended by the light committee, and all members voted yes.

Mayor Gilbert reported the name of William Moore to fill the vacancy on the police force. President Purinton wanted to know if the police committee had a report on the appointment. Mr. Horwell explained that the committee were not acquainted with the man, but that the mayor had recommended him to them. President Purinton thought it would be wise to refer the appointment to the committee, and Mr. Marshall said that as a member of the committee he was satisfied with the appointment. That the man had been reported to him as reliable and responsible. He closed by moving his confirmation. President Purinton said:

"If council will excuse me for speaking it seems unwise to me for us to appoint a man we do not know. I shall have to vote against him."

Mr. Marshall then withdrew his motion, and President Purinton said: "I do not want to be understood as opposing the man, but we don't know anything about him. We assume a joint responsibility with the mayor in this appointment."

The curfew ordinance was introduced. It prohibits children under the age of 16 years of age from being on the streets after 8 o'clock in the evening, between Oct. 1st, and April 1st, and after 9 o'clock between April 1st and Oct. 1st, unless accompanied by their parents. The parents are made liable, and are subject to a fine of not less than 50 cents nor more than $5 for violation of the ordinance.

A communication was received from A. H. Clark offering to compromise his claim for $375.50, or leave it to be decided by any of the three judges who tried the cases.

Mr. Stewart said: "There is a proposition at the bottom of the communication which I think very fair, and will save litigation. As far as I am concerned I am willing to accept the amended bill or leave it to the three judges. I move it be referred to the same committee who had it before, the president of council and the solicitor." There was no second to the motion, and the communication was received and laid on the table.

"I would like to say a few words in regard to the hanging of the new lights," said Mr. Marshall. "I see they are to be hung on 35 feet poles. It is very unfortunate, but that is very indefinite. The present lights are but from 12 to 15 feet above the ground, and they do not give the light they should. They would be very much improved if they were 35 feet above the ground, and the light company would not have so much trouble with the boys breaking their globes."

"A 35-foot pole usually allows about 25 feet clear," explained Mr. Purinton.

"It is unfortunate that is not more definite. The light would be better if hung higher," persisted Mr. Marshall.

"The clerk will call the attention of the light committee to the suggestion and request," said Mr. Purinton.

Engineer George then called attention to the fact that something should be done toward grading Minerva street, as people wanted to build, and the water would have to be carried to Avondale street. President Purinton wanted to know if there were not several streets in that neighborhood in need of grading that should be done at the same time, and Engineer George said he thought it best to grade this street first, and that the expense to the city would only be about 2 per cent, and the citizens could not do any improving until the streets were graded. Mr. Kent said it was a hump on the east end of the street that was causing all of the trouble, and that they could cut the knob off and fill another part of the street to carry the water to Avondale. He also explained that one man had let a contract for a new house, and if he was flooded out next spring he would probably sue for damages.

Mr. Marshall—We are all at sea in regard to the lay of this street, and I think it the duty of council to view it as a body. I am lost on the question. A while ago I thought this ground was on the east side now it is on the west side.

President Purinton wanted to know if any grading could be done at present, and Mr. Kent replied: "You can dig dirt after this week. We have a storm on now, but it will soon be over."

After fixing 3 o'clock, Saturday, to view the spot council adjourned at 8:40.

RETRACT, IF IN THE WRONG.

If a True Man Commits a Wrong, Should He Apologize.

There are men who make the boast that they never retract or apologize, and yet they call themselves true men and even profess to be Christians. The man of average common sense, possessed of genuine manhood, or, as the world names him, "a thoroughbred," even though he be not a Christian, not even a professor, will, when he has committed a wrong against a friend, an acquaintance, or even an enemy, apologize for the commission of the wrong, to the party injured, by letter or in person. Then, even though his apology be not received, and even if insult be heaped upon him, the "thoroughbred" man retains that which is of incalculable value to him, his self respect. In conversation with a prominent minister of East Liverpool, a man who carries his Christianity into the pulpit, outside of the pulpit, everywhere, in fact, making it the aim of his life to do good in a practical manner, by deeds more than by words, although he is talented and eloquent, the following proposition was made:

"Do you believe that a minister of the gospel of Christ would be lowering his ministerial dignity by apologizing for a wrong he had committed against anyone?"

Prompt came the answer, pithy and to the point, without a moment's hesitation:

"No, sir. I do not think about the matter. It requires no thought. I know that his Christian manhood would compel him to apologize or retract, if he had been guilty of wrong doing against anyone. He would be simply doing Right, and Right cannot be Wrong?"

—George Griesinger, a well known wing shot of Steubenville, was in the city on business yesterday.

WHAT FOOLS THESE MORTALS BE

He Says When He Thinks of Bloody Conflict—A Powerful Address From the President of the Peace Society of Friends Favoring Arbitration.

William G. Hubbard, president of the Peace Association of Friends in America, addressed the pupils of the high and grammar schools at Central building this morning.

The scripture lesson was read by Doctor Lee. Mr. Hubbard made a short prayer, and the school sang the "Star Spangled Banner."

Professor Sanor then introduced the speaker, who made a lengthy address. He began his speech by indulging in a few pleasant remarks, but soon ceased and impressed upon the minds of the pupils the greatness of thought, by which man becomes not only master of the elements about him, but also of brute creation. He told how by the cultivation of the brain man rises into a superiority over the barbarous races, the one having heart and brain, while the other contains nothing but muscle, stomach and lusts, and in his opinion a man, no matter where found, was a barbarian if dominated by his lower natures.

"On some lines we have not done a sufficient amount of thinking to make us clearly civilized," continued the speaker, "and I want to call your attention to one or two lines. The first is how the states and nation deal with the greatest destroyer of the nation. I do not need to tell you I refer to the liquor traffic. In the late war there were 500,000 human souls sacrificed. Since that time the liquor traffic has destroyed six times as many people, and it still goes on under the American flag. There are at present 232,000 licensed dram shops in the United States, and $126,000,000 is turned into the nation's coffers as the government's share of the human spoils." A story was told of the barbarians of the Fiji islands eating 84 human beings. "But," said the speaker, "126,000 are sacrificed yearly at a place called the White House to satisfy greed for revenue. This is not barbarism, I say it is diabolism, and there is no nation which permits it that has a title to civilization. I will not discuss the remedy this morning.

"There is doubtless the brain in the public school today which will raise the nation up to a higher plane. The person who does it will not receive a great reward. He will be persecuted while he lives, but when he is gone he will have a monument. I will drop the subject with the invitation that you do the thinking, and if you get the nation thoroughly aroused they will soon get rid of the curse."

"The next question is how we settle international disputes. There are 20,000,000 people in standing armies in the world today in these times of peace, ready to rely on brute force instead of brains. Ninety per cent of the wars are over boundary lines, but wars do not determine the lines. Can men with their heads split open tell where boundary lines should be? Do we want men with cracked heads to settle boundary lines? What does war prove? I am inclined to believe it proves Shakespeare's words, 'What fools these mortals be.' We have not yet risen to a plane of brains and reason to settle these questions.

"I remember well a story a gentleman told me of the battle of Antietam. He said: 'I was walking over the battlefield, and down in one corner saw a man lying dead with a new testament in his hand, probably killed by another Christian. I said to myself we have no right to the title of civilization until we settle differences by the mind instead of by muscle.' Isn't it high time we learned how to do it."

"I want to hold your attention and get you to do some thinking while I diagnose this disease. What is war? Thomas Carlyle describes it by saying in an English town of Dunbridge are 1,000 men. One hundred of these are sent 1,000 miles away to kill men they never saw, about a question they know nothing of. In a French town by the same name is another 100 men, and they meet and kill each other about a king's quarrel. When the great masses reach a point where they say, 'Do your own fighting,' that moment will the wars be at an end. So long as 20,000,000 men are hired out to kill each other, so long will war be a constant occurrence. Jefferson says standing armies create 10 wars where they prevent one. This country, without a standing army, has lived years in peace, while other nations have had almost perpetual war. Napoleon, in his later days, said, 'War is the trade of barbarians,' and John Wesley styled it the 'business of hell.' The speaker then told of the law of love, and closed by saying: "Would you like to help us prevent this? Let us turn on the light." A few short addresses were made, and the service closed with the singing of "America."

THE W. C. T. UNION.

An Outsider Pays His Respects to Rev. J. M. Huston.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—If the liquor league organ of last night quotes Rev. J. M. Huston correctly, in his fling against the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, then is Rev. J. M. Huston to be pitied, as he has sneered at one of the grandest organizations ever known in this country; an organization of Christian women, tried and true, indefatigable in their battle against the chief agent of his satanic majesty, the liquor traffic; loyal Christian ladies, flying the banner of total abstinence to the breeze; admitting of no compromise with the arch enemy of the human race, but facing him boldly on every occasion; not guilty of playing policy, fearful of offending someone of influence, in the church or out of the church; grandly glorious women, having the courage of their convictions, and daring to carry them into action; earnest believers in the power of God, and having sublime faith, confident that God will, in His own good time, win out the victory. God bless such women, and may they never be lacking in all the aid and sympathy they so richly deserve. Pope, priest, prelate, minister or layman cannot insult them with impunity, so long as true manhood and true womanhood shall exist on this earth. By the way, Mr. Editor, the members of the local union were warm advocates of the Bible being read in the public schools, and also warm advocates of Christian evangelists. Could these facts possibly account for the hostility of Rev. J. M. Huston to the union?

TWO MINISTERS

Of East Liverpool Have Commended Dr. Tracy.

Two ministers of the gospel residing in East Liverpool have warmly commended Dr. Tracy, one from his pulpit, the other in private conversation. The first minister was approached by several of his congregation, members who had been present at Dr. Tracy's services, and warm words of praise were spoken in favor of the grandly good work the evangelist, in the hands of the Master, was doing. The minister replied: "God bless him in his good work, and in his battle against the curse of the liquor traffic." The second minister said: "I do not know of a single evil feature connected with Dr. Tracy's work. He accomplished good when here on a previous occasion, and I pray God's blessing upon him in his fight against the rum curse." These are certainly good words for the evangelist, and will gladden his heart and encourage him to continue, with unabated vigor, his fight against the most horrible evil which ever cursed the United States.

EARLY IN MARCH

Will the Republican County Primaries Be Held.

LISBON, Jan. 27.—[Special]—At the meeting of the Republican committee a committee was appointed to consult with the candidates and ascertain their wishes as to the time for holding the primaries. They selected March 13, between the hours of 1 and 6 o'clock. The meeting ratified the action. The rules of a year ago were adopted, and because of the early date the names of candidates must be in the hands of the committee by Feb. 10. The ratification meeting will be held March 16.

LOWER RATES.

Express Company Ordered a Readjustment For Liverpool.

The Adams Express company today enforced a new rate list for this place. It is based on mileage and through rates to terminal points. Heretofore rates to intermediate points were out of all proportion to the charges to terminals. In the new classification there is a general equalization, rates being cut in every instance. The lowest is 33½ per cent on some articles, but the average is 10 per cent. This is the first time in the history of the city that a cut so sweeping is made.

Mr. Marshall then moved the adoption of the report of the board of improvement as amended by the light committee, and all members voted yes.

Mayor Gilbert reported the name of William Moore to fill the vacancy on the police force. President Purinton wanted to know if the police committee had a report on the appointment. Mr. Horwell explained that the committee were not acquainted with the man, but that the mayor had recommended him to them. Mr. Marshall then withdrew his motion, and President Purinton said: "I do not want to be understood as opposing the man, but we don't know anything about him. We assume a joint responsibility with the mayor in this appointment."

The curfew ordinance was introduced. It prohibits children under the age of 16 years of age from being on the streets after 8 o'clock in the evening, between Oct. 1st and April 1st, and after 9 o'clock between April 1st and Oct. 1st, unless accompanied by their parents. The parents are made liable, and are subject to a fine of not less than 50 cents nor more than $5 for violation of the ordinance.

A communication was received from A. H. Clark offering to compromise his claim for $875.50, or leave it to be decided by any of the three judges who tried the cases.

Mr. Stewart said: "There is a proposition at the bottom of the communication which I think very fair, and will save litigation. As far as I am concerned I am willing to accept the amended bill or leave it to the three judges. Mr. Kent said it was a hump on the east end of the street that was causing all of the trouble, and that they could cut the knob off and fill another part of the street to carry the water to Avondale. He also explained that one man had let a contract for a new house, and if he was flooded out next spring he would probably sue for damages.

Mr. Marshall—We are all at sea in regard to the lay of this street, and I think it the duty of council to view it as a body. I am lost on the question. A while ago I thought this ground was on the east side now it is on the west side.

President Purinton wanted to know if any grading could be done at present, and Mr. Kent replied: "You can dig dirt after this week. We have a storm on now, but it will soon be over."

After fixing 3 o'clock, Saturday, to view the spot council adjourned at 8:40.

Of East Liverpool Have Commended Dr. Tracy.

Two ministers of the gospel residing in East Liverpool have warmly commended Dr. Tracy, one from his pulpit, the other in private conversation. The first minister was approached by several of his congregation, members who had been present at Dr. Tracy's services, and warm words of praise were spoken in favor of the grandly good work the evangelist, in the hands of the Master, was doing. The minister replied: "God bless him in his good work, and in his battle against the curse of the liquor traffic." The second minister said: "I do not know of a single evil feature connected with Dr. Tracy's work. He accomplished good when here on a previous occasion, and I pray God's blessing upon him in his fight against the rum curse." These are certainly good words for the evangelist, and will gladden his heart and encourage him to continue, with unabated vigor, his fight against the most horrible evil which ever cursed the United States.

EARLY IN MARCH

Will the Republican County Primaries Be Held.

LISBON, Jan. 27.—[Special]—At the meeting of the Republican committee a committee was appointed to consult with the candidates and ascertain their wishes as to the time for holding the primaries. They selected March 13, between the hours of 1 and 6 o'clock. The meeting ratified the action. The rules of a year ago were adopted, and because of the early date the names of candidates must be in the hands of the committee by Feb. 10. The ratification meeting will be held March 16.

LOWER RATES.

Express Company Ordered a Readjustment For Liverpool.

The Adams Express company today enforced a new rate list for this place. It is based on mileage and through rates to terminal points. Heretofore rates to intermediate points were out of all proportion to the charges to terminals. In the new classification there is a general equalization, rates being cut in every instance. The lowest is 33 1/3 per cent on some articles, but the average is 10 per cent. This is the first time in the history of the city that a cut so sweeping is made.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, JAN. 27

Five states will elect governors this year, and of course the greatest of these is Ohio.

The possibility of an extra session of the legislature grows more remote with every day. Yes, there are some things for which we can be thankful.

While you are making up your list of candidates for next spring, don't forget there will be five vacant places to be filled in the board of education.

ONLY six states of the union now have annual sessions of the legislature, and if they want a good thing they will soon join the majority, and only allow their legislators to meet every two years.

The decision of the committee of foreign affairs to ask the state department why warships can not be maintained on the lakes by Great Britain and America, does not look as though that arbitration treaty was to do much good.

If the ordinary man depended on the Democratic press of Ohio for his political information he would imagine Governor Bushnell and Senator Foraker, armed to the teeth and sneaking through dark alleys, looking for Major McKinley and Mr. Hanna.

YEA, VERILY.

Blessed is the newspaper man who hath the courage of his convictions and dares to tell the truth. He shall not be disappointed when the political "pup" is being issued, as he expecteth "nothing" and will get the same. Selah.

THE DAY IS BREAKING.

The position of Major McKinley regarding a tariff law cannot be misunderstood. "I desire to have a protective system inaugurated immediately after my inauguration, and I want a measure passed that will stimulate business and give idle men work," are the words he wrote a Pennsylvania congressman when asked about the business of the special session. If there ever was a grain of doubt this will forever put it away. The next president is determined that business shall go forward if the cardinal principle of the Republican party enacted into law can do it. Already much good has been done. The shiver which shook so many banking institutions a few weeks ago has passed, and all financial authorities are convinced that business is again on a firm basis. The cold wave revealed the presence of much poverty and want, but that was to be expected. Four years of such hardship as Democracy has forced upon the country could result in nothing else. As soon as the conditions making such suffering possible can be removed Major McKinley proposes to have it done, and "idle men will have work."

TRUE REPUBLICANS.

Tried and true Republicans will not be controlled by pot house politicians—men who are the mere tools of the saloon and liquor league. Rev. J. C. Taggart never spoke more truly than when he said that the majority of the voters of the Republican party in Columbiana county are opposed to the saloon. This majority must rule, and it is high time that trucking representatives—men who cater to the whisky ring and who misrepresent their constituents—should be relegated to a back seat, and men of honor, honesty and true life sent to fill their places. Republicanism is not whiskyism, by any manner of means, and the day has gone by when the saloon shall dominate and dictate to the grandest party organization ever known in the history of this great nation; a party which has always been in the front when war was waged against the encroachments of the saloon element, an element always affiliating with the Democratic party—a party which was never known, in the state of Ohio, to advocate a single temperance movement.

Dropping the "H."

The fine old English custom of disarding the initial "H" is said to be going out of use. Some writers are indulging in reminiscences of men to whose conversation it gave picturesque ness.

At the celebrated election in 1865, at which Mr. Gladstone lost his seat for Oxford university, his opponent was Mr. Hardy. The practice then—and, for aught to the contrary, it may be so still at a contested election—was for each elector to record his vote by word of mouth before tellers for each party sitting in the convocation house or some other suitable place of meeting. The late Professor Henry Smith was acting as teller for Mr. Gladstone, when an uncomely country parson entered, and to the usual question for whom he wished to record his vote replied in confusion, "I vote for Mr. Glad—I mean for 'Ardy.'" "I claim that vote," quietly put in Professor Henry Smith. "No, no," protested the old clergyman, "I did not finish the name." "You didn't even begin the other," was the professor's dry retort.

A story is told of an eminent legal practitioner who was afflicted with a similar difficulty in pronouncing his aspirates many years ago. He had a particular dislike to a late learned lord chancellor who had published a book upon hymns. Upon seeing his rival enter the court on one occasion he was heard to mutter, "'Ere 'e comes, 'umming 'is 'ymns; 'oly old 'umbag, 'ow I do 'ate 'im!'"—New York Journal.

The Mosaic Age Highly Literary.

At first the Tel-el-Amarna tablets were declared to be forgeries, and Renan gave expression to the "critical" skepticism on the subject in his annual address on oriental discovery. Very soon, however, the most stout hearted champion of the illiteracy of the ancient east was obliged to yield, and the "critics" were forced to admit that on this point, at all events, they had been in the wrong. But it was with a bad grace that the admission was made, for it did not require much penetration to see that the discovery deprived them of what I may term their base of operations. Just as Wolf's skepticism in regard to the age and authorship of Homer rested on his belief in the late date of the use of writing for literary purposes in Greece, so the really strong argument of the "critics" against the Mosaic age and authorship of the Pentateuch was that neither Moses nor his contemporaries could read or write. The Tel-el-Amarna tablets have come to upset this supposed fact and to show that the Mosaic age was a highly literary one. It is amusing to watch the undisguised reluctance with which the "critics" have swallowed the unpalatable fact that, after all, Moses could have written the Israelitish law.—Contemporary Review.

A Cheerful Liar.

"When I was out among the hills of northern India," said the major, "I had an experience that I wonder didn't turn my hair gray. I was camped all alone on the side of that historic stream and had occasion to go for some water to boil my beans in. First thing I knew I stepped right into a quicksand. I knew what was up at once and knew that I was gone. And I am willing to admit that I was frightened."

"In fact, that is how I came to escape. As I stood there with that horrible sand dragging, dragging at me like some living monster, I turned colder and colder. Do what I could my teeth would keep on chattering, though I knew that every vibration of my jaw was shaking me farther down into that ready made grave. And I grew colder and colder. Suddenly I noticed that I had stopped sinking."

"Struck bottom, eh?"

"Certainly not. I had grown so cold from horror and fear—I may as well admit it—that I actually froze the water in the quicksand frozen the whole business, sir."—Pearson's Weekly.

Bonny Bobby Shafto.

An early version will be found in Bell's "Rhymes of Northern Bards," page 288, and Sir C. Sharpe's "Bishopric Garland," page 54. The latter runs as follows:

Bobby Shafto's gone to sea,
Silver buckles at his knee,
He'll come back and marry me,
Bonny Bobby Shafto.

According to Sir C. Sharpe, the song was used for electioneering purposes in 1761, when Robert Shafto of Whitworth, Esq., was the favorite candidate and was popularly called "Bonny Bobby Shafto." His portrait at Whitworth represented him as very young and very handsome and with yellow hair. Miss Bellamy, the heiress of Brancepeth, is said to have died of love of him.—Notes and Queries.

Cheerful People.

One is always refreshed by the presence of cheerful people. The thought ought to teach us a salutary lesson to be always cheerful ourselves. The cheery person, who has a pleasant smile for all, a genial word for every acquaintance, a happy expression for the world, is the person whose companionship is sought, whose presence is indispensable at a party or dinner and whose absence is always noted.—Exchange.

Friends of Arbitration Meet in Washington.

PROMINENT MEN MADE SPEECHES.

Ex-Secretary John W. Foster Called the Meeting to Order—Justice Bruce One of the Orators—A Letter Read From Cardinal Gibbons.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—A large meeting of the friends of the arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain, now pending in the senate, has been held in the Grand Opera house here. The call for the meeting was signed by ex-Secretary John W. Foster, who succeeded Mr. Blaine as secretary of state in President Harrison's cabinet; Chief Justice Melville V. Fuller of the United States supreme court, Bishop John F. Hurst, Bishop Henry V. Satterlee, President B. L. Whitman of Columbian university, Rev. Dr. D. J. Stafford and other prominent citizens. The purpose of the meeting was stated in the call to be the public attestation of the approbation of the great principle of arbitration embodied in the pending treaty. The audience was a large and distinguished one and included the delegates to the meeting of the national board of trade now in session here.

Speeches were made by John W. Foster, Hon. Gardiner G. Hubbard, president of the American Geographical Society, United States Justice Brewer, Thomas Nelson Page, President Whitman of Columbian university and Senator Henderson of Missouri. A letter from Cardinal Gibbons was read expressing his regret at not being able to attend the meeting and favoring the treaty.

A resolution favoring the adoption of the treaty as a distinct advance toward the best civilization was adopted.

ARBITRATION TREATY FAVORED.

Fraley Re-Elected President by National Board of Trade.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The national board of trade re-elected as president the venerable Frederick Fraley of Philadelphia, who was absent from the meeting by reason of the sickness of his wife. Mr. Fraley is 93 years of age and has been president of the board continuously since its organization. Ex-Governor E. O. Standard of St. Louis was elected temporary chairman.

After a number of routine matters had been disposed of resolutions were unanimously adopted in favor of the arbitration treaty with England.

S. W. Woodward has been selected as vice president for Washington in place of B. H. Warner and ex-Governor R. E. Pattison of Pennsylvania has been chosen vice president for Pennsylvania. Secretary N. R. Tucker will also be re-elected.

ARBITRATION WITH FRANCE.

Semi-Official Statement From Paris That Negotiations Have Been Resumed.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—It is semi-officially stated that negotiations for a treaty of general arbitration between France and the United States were commenced about a year ago, but were only resumed when it was announced that the Anglo-American treaty had been definitely concluded.

EX-QUEEN LIL'S RECEPTION.

The Public Visits Her at Her Hotel in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Ex-Queen Lilinokalani has held a reception for two hours at her rooms in the Shoreham. It was her purpose to confine the reception mainly to newspaper men and such persons in official life as cared to call. However, the ladies in the hotel soon passed the news of the affair to their friends elsewhere and in consequence the small parlor set apart for the callers was well crowded with persons, mostly of the fair sex, and generally animated by a feeling of curiosity to see the woman who had been a queen and had filled a page in the history of Polynesia.

The queen was assisted in the reception of visitors by her lady-in-waiting, Miss Kia Nahaolelua, and by her secretary and agent, Joseph Haleluhe, both native Hawaiians. Mr. Palmer, acting as her chamberlain, received the callers at the doorway and presented them to the receiving party. The queen was becomingly attired in a black silk gown trimmed with royal purple and bore herself with great dignity, responding aptly to the salutations of her callers, and having a pleasant word for everyone. Whether or not she will again receive the public in Washington is not known, and when she was asked the question how long she intended to remain here she replied that she did not know; she found it so pleasant in Washington that she had as yet given no thought to departure.

WARMER WEATHER PROMISED.

Light Snows Predicted For This Section of the Country.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The weather bureau issues the following:

The temperature has risen slowly from the Atlantic coast westward over the Ohio and Upper Mississippi valley and the northwest. It continues low and has fallen slightly in the southwest and it has fallen decidedly on the central gulf and West Florida coasts, where it is below freezing.

The temperature will remain about stationary today in the Middle Atlantic states north of Virginia with fair weather and it will rise slowly in the central valleys, with light local snows. The high winds, which have prevailed on the Atlantic coast north of Hatteras, due to the depression in the lower St. Lawrence valley, have been succeeded by brisk northwesterly winds, which will continue today, the depression having passed to the eastward of Nova Scotia.

The forecast for West Virginia, Western Maryland, Western Pennsylvania and Ohio is as follows:

Fair in the morning, with increasing cloudiness; probably local snows in the afternoon or night; not so cold; northerly to westerly winds.

SHERMAN SURE TO RESIGN.

Grosvener Denies the Senator Might Reconsider His Decision.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—General Grosvener of Ohio declines to discuss the rumors from Ohio as to the probability that Governor Bushnell will appoint Lieutenant Governor Jones to the vacancy in the senate upon the retirement of Senator Sherman, except to say that the sentiment in Ohio, as expressed in the newspapers, seemed to him overwhelmingly in favor of Mr. Hanna. With regard to the rumor that Senator Sherman might reconsider his acceptance of the state portfolio in case Mr. Hanna was not appointed to succeed him he expressed himself most emphatically.

"Mr. Sherman," said he, "was tendered the premiership by Mr. McKinley on his own merits. He accepted, and he would have no right now to repudiate his acceptance because of dissatisfaction with matters growing out of his retirement from the senate, and, moreover, I can say most positively that he has no intention of reconsidering his action."

HANNA VISITED CANTON.

Public Reception to McKinley in Canton to Occur Feb. 22.

CANTON, O., Jan. 27.—National Chairman M. A. Hanna called on Major McKinley last evening and remained over until today. He had nothing to say when called on by reporters.

Five Brooklyn gentlemen called on Major McKinley in the interest of Congressman Francis H. Wilson of Brooklyn for the cabinet.

It has been definitely arranged that the farewell reception to Major and Mrs. McKinley will be held on the afternoon of Feb. 22. The reception will be for Cantonians in general who wish to bid Major and Mrs. McKinley goodbye. It will be under the auspices of the Business Men's association, which will arrange details.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Mrs. McKinley is in this city visiting the McWilliams family.

SURE OF SHERMAN'S SEAT.

Hanna's Appointment to the Senate Said to Be Conceded Now.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 27.—Ever since the legislative reunion and banquet at Columbus there has been a growing feeling in well informed political circles that the naming of Mr. Hanna by Governor Bushnell as the successor of Senator John Sherman is well nigh a certainty. This opinion is not alone confined to Mr. Hanna's friends, but is now even admitted by those who have opposed him as a candidate for the senate.

"Governor Bushnell," said a politician of national reputation, "has everything to gain if he names Mr. Hanna and nothing to lose. On the other hand, in the face of the general sentiment in favor of the latter should he select some other man for the place, it would mean political suicide."

A FIRE IN TOLEDO.

Explosion of a Gasoline Stove in a Livery Stable the Cause.

TOLEDO, Jan. 27.—The explosion of a gasoline stove in the harness room of Joseph Popp's livery barn caused a hot fire. Twelve valuable coach and blooded horses were suffocated by the smoke, while 20 others were so badly burned that the majority of them will have to be shot.

The total loss will aggregate $50,000 on horses, carriages and harnesses, with $2,800 insurance, and $8,000 on building, with $2,000 insurance.

A Teacher Found Guilty.

RAVENNA, O., Jan. 27.—The jury in the case of Frank E. Kimmel returned a verdict of guilty. Prof. Kimmel almost fainted. He immediately surrendered to the sheriff, Judge Robinson refusing to admit him to bail. Kimmel was indicted for improper conduct with his pupil, Miss Bessie Moore, then under 16 years of age. The jury disagreed in the first trial. This is the first case ever tried in the state under the statute. The penalty is from two to ten years in the penitentiary.

The Receiver Removed.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 27.—Judge Slough of Lancaster has revoked the appointment of F. M. Poston of Nelsonville as receiver of the Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking Railroad company. The receiver was forced upon the company against the protest of stockholders. The old management resumes possession of the property.

Miners Continue to Strike.

MASSILLON, O., Jan. 27.—John J. Mossop, president of the Massillon Miners' organization, issues this card: "Our refusal to accept the reduction was not based on the action of the Jackson miners, but on the justice of our demands. We object to the further grinding process." He says the local strike will continue.

A BIG BLOCK BURNED.

The Fire Loss at Philadelphia About $2,000,000.

Wanamaker's Store Scorched.

Thirty Buildings Destroyed Before the Flames Were Gotten Under Control. Several Firemen Injured—One Man Dropped Dead—A List of the Losses.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—The fire here destroyed one of the most valuable blocks of real estate in the city. It was the block bounded by Market, Thirteenth, Filbert and Juniper streets, in the very heart of the city. A few steps to the right looms the massive city hall; around the corner stands the Pennsylvania railroad terminal and directly across the way John Wanamaker's great store stretches from street to street. So fierce was the flame and so strong the wind which aided its destructive work that even this building, situated in the width of Market street, was saved almost by a miracle from total destruction and Mr. Wanamaker places his loss at $1,000,000. The total loss is variously estimated at from $1,000,000 to $2,500,000, but in the chaos and confusion now existing it is all but impossible to secure accurate figures. The losses are very generally covered by insurance.

The fire originated in the basement of the six story building, extending from 1309 to 1317 Market street, occupied in the lower floors by Hanscom Bros., grocers, and above by the umbrella factory of Hirsch Bros. The smoke was discovered by a policeman, who promptly turned in an alarm, but the fire made such headway that before the engines could be put to work the building was a mass of flames. With uncontrollable rapidity it then spread in all directions, destroying about 30 buildings before it had been finally controlled. The fire reached the big tower of Wanamaker's store about an hour after it started and the energies of the department were concentrated upon saving that building. The tower was entirely destroyed and other damage done.

The buildings wholly or partially destroyed and the estimated losses were: Market street—1301-03, Potter & Co., photographers; John Hillam, druggist, $30,000; 1305, C. H. Sterner, cigarist, $27,000; 1307, H. L. Roberts & Co., photographers, $75,000; 1309-17, Hirsch & Bros., umbrellas; Hanscom Bros., grocers; A. W. Dennett, restaurant, $400,000; 1319, Blum Bros., cloaks and suits, $90,000; 1321, A. Marshall, restaurant, $3,900; 1323, C. B. Wells, hats, $28,000; 1325, John Dickson, heaters, $40,000; 1327, Shovel and Freyer, grocers, $110,000.

A number of small three-story structures on Thirteenth street, up to Filbert, assessed in all at about $150,000, and four buildings on Filbert street about $75,000, including the six-story printing house of Dunlap & Clark, valued at $150,000.

Wanamaker's loss on stock will reach $25,000 and Hirsch & Bros. $300,000. Several firemen were injured, but none seriously, and one man dropped dead of excitement.

FEW HUNGRY IN CHICAGO.

The Suffering Relieved by Systematic Work—$35,000 Subscribed.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—The quick response of the citizens to Mayor Swift's appeal has resulted in the relief of suffering in Chicago with rapidity and to an extent far beyond expectation. Through the systematic canvass of the police and the prompt attention to the cases reported by the officers it is safe to say that but few persons are suffering in Chicago from cold or hunger. During 48 hours not less than 1,200 families were supplied through the police with food and fuel.

The work of the police was reinforced by that of the letter-carriers who, acting on Postmaster Hesing's orders, gathered the names of the unfortunates on their routes and turned them in to the substations, the superintendents of which then reported to the police. The work of the Salvation Army was far reaching and the information in the hands of the "sham" workers was used to great advantage in the relief work.

Mayor Swift has been busy receiving subscriptions to the relief fund. Fully $35,000 being subscribed.

MANUFACTURERS' CONVENTION.

Search Delivered His Annual Address. A Tariff Committee.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—The second annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers is in session in Horticultural hall. There are nearly 300 delegates present. The address of welcome was to have been delivered by Mayor Warwick, but owing to his being required at the scene of the fire, Charles Heber Clark acted in his stead. Immediately after this, President Search announced the annual committees of the convention, after which he delivered his annual address.

Charles Heber Clark, Pennsylvania; G. J. Seabury, New York; F. S. Fish, Indiana; J. F. Hanson, Georgia, and L. B. Jewell, Connecticut, were appointed a committee on tariff.

The special tariff committee met in the Manufacturers' club. While nothing would be stated officially, it was understood that the committee favored a strong protective tariff and reciprocity.

Cuban Resolutions Passed.

ALBANY, Jan. 27.—In the senate there was a long debate over the Cuban resolutions passed by the assembly last week. After being amended so as to call for recognition of the belligerent rights of insurgents, the resolutions were adopted.

Against the Arbitration Treaty.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Jan. 27.—In the state legislature Representative R. C. Busse of Chicago has offered a joint resolution opposing the arbitration treaty with England.

CHOLERA MAY FOLLOW FAMINE.

A Correspondent Reports Dire Distress in Bijapur, India.

BILAPUR, Presidency of Bombay, Jan. 27.—The special correspondent of the Associated Press, who is visiting the distressed provinces of India, has arrived at Bijapur, about 245 miles south-east of Bombay, and finds in this district the keenest distress, especially among the people of the lower castes. These are on the verge of starvation and are only saved from it by the government relief work, which enables them to earn enough money to at least keep body and soul together while awaiting the brighter state of affairs which recent rains are expected to provide later in the year.

It is estimated that fully one-tenth of the cattle in this district have already perished from lack of fodder, and the loss from this cause will undoubtedly be considerably increased by the loss of the growing crop of the new crops. In the fields can be seen lying numbers of carcasses of animals being devoured by vultures. There are many gangs of robbers engaged in pillaging grain-stores whenever an opportunity arises, and the prisons are full of thieves who have been captured while stealing grain or in attempting to do so. Among the masses there are many cases of illness, arising from lack of proper nourishment and it is regarded as certain that cholera will reach this district sooner or later, owing to the carelessness of the people.

A COSTLY RAILROAD WRECK.

The Atlantic City Disaster Cost Almost a Million in Claims.

CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 27.—The railroad accident which occurred on the Atlantic City meadows last summer, when a Philadelphia and Reading flyer ran into a West Jersey train, and resulted in the killing of 44 people and the injuring of about 100 more, has proven a very costly one to the railroads.

Since the accident the companies have been settling the claims for damages outside of courts. It is estimated that thus far they have paid out in damages a sum amounting to nearly $1,000,000.

One of the latest claims to be settled is that of Mrs. Samuel Mita. She brought suit for $90,000 damages for the death of her husband and one daughter and the injuring of herself and a son. The company it is said has given her $30,000 in settlement.

Funeral of Minister Willis.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 27.—The funeral service over the remains of Albert S. Willis, late minister to Hawaii, was held at First Christian church and the greatest simplicity characterized every detail. Rev. E. L. Powell of the Christian church, and Rev. Reverdy Estell, of St. Paul's Episcopal church, conducted the service. The burial, at the request of Mrs. Willis, was private.

Seelye Dinner People Indicted.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The grand jury has indicted Herbert Barnum Seelye, James H. Phipps and Theodore Rich in connection with the recent dinner given by Mr. Seelye at Sherry's. The indictments charge the three with conspiring to procure the indecent exposure of two certain dancing women.

MISSION OF WOLCOTT.

Silver Men Deride It In the Senate.

CONFERENCE BILL CONSIDERED.

White Says There Is No Purpose to Oppose the Measure, but Declares It Will Do No Good—Stewart Offers an Amendment to the Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Wolcott bill for an international monetary conference has been considered for the first time in the senate. Mr. White (Dem., Cal.), and Mr. Cannon (Ind., Utah) and Mr. Daniel (Dem., Va.) urged that the conference would be futile and was not intended as a serious movement toward bimetalism.

Mr. White spoke derisively of Mr. Wolcott's trip to Europe as the representative of the coming administration in behalf of bimetalism. This envoy antecedent had not met with the most hearty reception, if the cable reports could be believed, but had been referred by British statesmen to their brothers on the continent. Mr. White said the senator from New Hampshire (Chandler), in his leisure hours from the senate, edited a newspaper which contained an article which Mr. White had read at the desk amid some amusement. It spoke of Senator Sherman as the great leader who would solve the problem of bimetalism.

Turning to Mr. Sherman, Mr. White asked the Ohio senator if he was ready to assume the task mapped out for him. There was no purpose so far as he knew, Mr. White proceeded to oppose this measure, as it was felt to be harmless, while it might satisfy its promoters who might feel that it kept some of their promises, yet, with this act, they were doomed to certain failure. When it had remained unacted upon, some other device might be resorted to. The senator referred to the lonesomeness of the proposed commission, going about and seeking nations with whom to confer. He doubted if anyone would be appointed to this commission, unless some large emolument was attached to the places. It was a futile movement, declared the senator, and having relieved themselves of the financial question by this harmless device, its promoters would then turn their attention to levying more taxes.

Mr. Cannon (Ind. Utah) urged an amendment directing the president of the United States to call the conference, and reciting that the purpose was toward securing a ratio between 15 to 1 and 16 to 1. He said the Wolcott bill merely relieved Mr. McKinley, leaving him the mere administrative duty of appointing commissioners.

There was a belief, he said, that Mr. McKinley, in his holy of holies, entertained a conviction favorable to bimetalism and the bill should be made broad enough to permit the coming president to aid in the accomplishment of this great end, instead of retiring into a passive and administrative attitude. As to international conferences in general, Mr. Cannon said he had little faith in them, and it would be about as difficult to galvanize life into one of the Pharaohs as to get any definite results from such a conference. The senator referred also to Mr. Wolcott's trip to Europe and said little was to be expected from this "dilettante dalliance" with great questions involved.

Mr. Stewart (Pop., Nev.) offered an amendment providing that in case the international conference failed to effect an agreement as to bimetalism then, within 30 days after the adjournment of the conference, the secretary of the treasury shall coin all gold and silver brought to the mints into standard silver dollars and such gold coins as are now provided by law.

TO PROMOTE WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.

The National Convention Now Being Held at Des Moines.

DES MOINES, Jan. 27.—The National American Woman's Suffrage association annual meeting has a fair attendance. Seventeen states are represented. Among those on the committee on resolutions are: Ohio, Dr. Viola Swift; Pennsylvania, Mrs. Mary B. Luckin.

Rachael Foster Avery, corresponding secretary, reported over 2,000 articles published during the past year in nearly 700 papers, read by more than 1,000,000 people in 49 states. Although national headquarters at Philadelphia has done good work during the past year at an expense of $1,300, she recommended the removal of headquarters to New York to co-operate with the national organization.

Susan B. Anthony, president, gave her annual address. It was devoted largely to a statement of the work in California, which she regarded as very satisfactory. She said that California's defeat is simply victory deferred, for the legislature is sure to resubmit an amendment and they will be victorious in November, 1898. Nevada, Oregon, Washington and Montana are also likely to have suffrage campaigns and prospects for success are good. She urged a more thorough local organization for the education of voters.

Rev. Anna Howard Shaw of Philadelphia also reported on the work in California.

Laura Clay of Kentucky spoke for that state, telling of satisfactory progress in the recognition of women upon state boards and in special legislation asked for by women.

Turpie Finished His Speech.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Mr. Turpie (Ind.) has closed his speech on the Cuban resolutions in the senate, urging that Spain had utterly failed to quell the outbreak and that the United States should intervene.

FUN IN THE HOUSE.

Indian Appropriation Bill Occasions Witty Remarks.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—A good deal of fun developed in the house over the Indian appropriation bill.

Murphy (A. T.) doubted the good results of the present system of education.

Mahon (Rep., Pa.) made a special defense of the Carlisle Indian school.

Curtis (Rep., Kan.) defended Indian education, but admitted that it was a pity that educated Indians were returned to the poor soil of Arizona, but where the Indians had good tillable lands he denied that they returned to savagery. He paid a high tribute to the work the educated Indians were doing in Kansas and other states.

"Have not the Indians developed great powers in football?" asked Mr. Grosvenor (O.).

"I believe they have."

"And is not football considered, in our modern colleges, the highest test of culture and civilization?" [Laughter.] Mr. Hartman (Mon.) offered an amendment which produced a howl of laughter, recalling as it did, the recent exposures in connection with the notorious Seelye dinner in New York. It provided for an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the education and civilization of the "Seelye savages of the Manhattan reservation."

The house greeted the reading of the amendment with a hearty laugh. Mr. Hartman made no remarks upon it and it was ruled out on the point of order that it was "new legislation."

AN ANSWER TO RODRIGUEZ.

President Hitchcock Claims Nicaragua Canal Company Has Done Its Part.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Hiram Hitchcock, president of the Nicaragua Canal company, has written a letter to Secretary Olney in reply to Senator Rodriguez' statement, which the secretary sent to the senate.

Mr. Hitchcock says that when Senator Rodriguez says the company has forfeited its charter because of neglect to make the surveys as required, "he omits to inform you that the final surveys and location of the canal were made and concluded by a commission of engineers in strict conformity with article 47 of the concession and were formally accepted by the government of Nicaragua on Oct. 8, 1889."

Mr. Hitchcock also asserts that the company has fully complied with the requirements of the concession. "The letter of the minister," he concludes, "is an attack upon the integrity of the Maritime Canal company, and its concessions; and on behalf of that company I ask the protection and aid of the government of the United States in the defense and maintenance of its concessionary rights and its property."

Nicaragua Canal Bill Debated.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Nicaragua canal debate has been resumed in the senate. Mr. Daniel speaking against the measure. ### A CLASH WITH ECKELS.

Trouble Arises Over the Bank Failure at Newport, Ky.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 27.—A sensational feature has arisen in the settlement of the affairs of the First National bank of Newport, which seems to involve a clash between the state court and the comptroller of the currency.

Some of the depositors have filed a suit asking for the appointment of a receiver, alleging that the directors have abandoned the management of the affairs of the bank and that Cashier Yontey, who owes the bank $150,000, is disposing of his property and giving preference to certain creditors. No officer of the bank appeared to oppose the application and Judge Helm granted it and it is said will appoint John T. Hodge receiver. By what means the order of the court will be enforced is not made apparent. Receiver Wilshire, appointed by Comptroller Eckels, is still in charge.

Passed Over President's Veto.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The house overrode another of President Cleveland's pension vetoes by a vote of 137 to 52. The bill pensioned Jonathan Scott of the Sixth Iowa cavalry, who is now living at Oswego, Kan., at the rate of $73 per month. Mr. Cleveland vetoed it on the ground that the disability for which the beneficiary was to be pensioned was not contracted in the service.

Likely to Fight in Nevada.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—The Corbett-Fitzsimmons glove contest will take place in close proximity to one of three Nevada towns, viz: Carson, Reno or Virginia City. A bill permitting such affairs has been introduced in the assembly at Carson and there is every indication that it will become a law within the next day or two.

MISSION OF WOLCOTT.

Silver Men Deride It In the Senate.

CONFERENCE BILL CONSIDERED.

White Says There Is No Purpose to Oppose the Measure, but Declares It Will Do No Good—Stewart Offers an Amendment to the Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Wolcott bill for an international monetary conference has been considered for the first time in the senate. Mr. White (Dem., Cal.), and Mr. Cannon (Ind., Utah) and Mr. Daniel (Dem., Va.) urged that the conference would be futile and was not intended as a serious movement toward bimetalism.

Mr. White spoke derisively of Mr. Wolcott's trip to Europe as the representative of the coming administration in behalf of bimetalism. This envoy antecedent had not met with the most hearty reception, if the cable reports could be believed, but had been referred by British statesmen to their brothers on the continent. Mr. White said the senator from New Hampshire (Chandler), in his leisure hours from the senate, edited a newspaper which contained an article which Mr. White had read at the desk amid some amusement. It spoke of Senator Sherman as the great leader who would solve the problem of bimetalism.

Turning to Mr. Sherman, Mr. White asked the Ohio senator if he was ready to assume the task mapped out for him. There was no purpose so far as he knew, Mr. White proceeded to oppose this measure, as it was felt to be harmful, while it might satisfy its promoters, who might feel that it kept some of their promises, yet, with this act, they were doomed to certain failure. When it had remained unacted upon, some other device might be resorted to. The senator referred to the lonesomeness of the proposed commission, going about and seeking nations with whom to confer. He doubted if anyone would be appointed to this commission, unless some large emolument was attached to the places. It was a futile movement, declared the senator, and having relieved themselves of the financial question by this harmless device, its promoters would then turn their attention to levying more taxes.

Mr. Cannon (Ind., Utah) urged an amendment directing the president of the United States to call the conference, and reciting that the purpose was toward securing a ratio between 15 to 1 and 16 to 1. He said the Wolcott bill merely relieved Mr. McKinley, leaving him the mere administrative duty of appointing commissioners.

There was a belief, he said, that Mr. McKinley, in his holy of holies, entertained a conviction favorable to bimetalism and the bill should be made broad enough to permit the coming president to aid in the accomplishment of this great end, instead of retiring into a passive and administrative attitude. As to international conferences in general, Mr. Cannon said he had little faith in them, and it would be about as difficult to galvanize life into one of the Pharaohs as to get any definite results from such a conference. The senator referred also to Mr. Wolcott's trip to Europe and said little was to be expected from this "dilatante dalliance" with great questions involved.

Mr. Stewart (Pop., Nev.) offered an amendment providing that in case the international conference failed to effect an agreement as to bimetalism then, within 30 days after the adjournment of the conference, the secretary of the treasury shall coin all gold and silver brought to the mints into standard silver dollars and such gold coins as are now provided by law.

Mr. Daniel, referring to Mr. Wolcott's trip, said it was a remarkable and pathetic spectacle to see this journey to the foot of the British throne. The American people going to Lombard street and seeking interviews with European financiers presented an impressive picture which deserved a place in the rotunda of the capitol. The senator referred satirically to a crusade for bimetalism in which Mr. Sherman was to be at the head of the crusade.

A BASKET OF MONEY

They Talked About It at the Martin-Kepner Trial.

JOHN SANT EXPECTS TO BE PAID

The Suit Is a Hard Fought Legal Battle, and Some Things Interesting to Taxpayers Are Being Brought Out—Kepner's Words Repeated.

LISBON, Jan. 27.—[Special.]—When court opened after the adjournment for dinner yesterday, Martin was again put on the stand, and concluded his testimony as follows:

"I signed the receipt given me by Firestone because I thought he knew what to advise me, and I had confidence in him. When I counted the money it was through curiosity. The public knew of the shortage in 1893, when it was published. The first person I mentioned it to was Auditor Garrigue. He came to me before the examination in February, 1893, and told me I would have to show a certain amount of money, and I said it was not there. I told Firestone, but did not say I suspected Kepner. The first I believed Jesse had taken away money was after the examination of the books by Mr. Sant. At every settlement made Kepner would come in, and ask me if I had money enough."

The next witness was J. B. Morgan, deputy under Martin. He said: "I began with Martin when he entered office, and remember the settlement was deferred to Sept. 2, because the first was Labor day. Kepner's money was in Firestone's bank. I saw Firestone prepare the receipt, but didn't see him sign it. After the examination Jesse went into the vault, and came out with a half bushel basket two-thirds full of $500 packages. He said he hoped it would keep the wolf from the door, as he was out of a job."

At this point the jury were taken to the treasurer's office, and viewed the place. Upon their return Morgan continued:

"When Kepner left the office he was gone 20 minutes. He had neither basket nor money when he returned. When I was going to East Rochester one time Kepner stopped me at New Garden, and asked how Martin was getting on, and how he came out at the examination. The 'Jesse' book was a memorandum in which the account between Martin and Kepner was kept. I can't recall when I last saw it, nor who was there. We hunted for it, but never found it."

John Sant, who examined the treasury when the deficit was found, was next. He said: "Early in life I was taught to be an expert accountant. I was employed by Martin's bondsmen, I think, although I have never been able to determine who I worked for. April 18, 1894, I began the examination. I took Kepner into the auditor's office, and asked him if there was not a written detailed statement of his settlement with Martin. He produced the treasurer's cash book, and, turning to where it was written that $23,421 had been turned over to Martin on the final settlement, he laid his hand on the figures, and said, 'There are the figures we settled by.' Judge Wells and I went to New Garden to see Kepner April 25, and took it with us. I asked what he turned over to Martin, and he again said it was $23,000 and something. He had forgotten. He said he positively remembered the amount, but had a receipt and would look it up."

On cross examination Sant said: "I expect to be paid for coming here to testify."

The next witnesses were Auditor Harvey, Deputy Frank Adams and Conrad Hune, who were present when Sant talked with Kepner. They corroborated what Sant had said.

Miss Martha Daley, who at the time the shortage was discovered was a deputy in Martin's office, said she talked with Kepner the morning he learned of Sant's discovery. Kepner told her it was a sorry day for him as Sant had found a mistake of Garrigue which would put him in the hole almost $8,000, and he guessed he would have to pay it.

Court convened this morning, and Edward Firestone was put on the stand. He testified: "Sept. 2, Kepner drew from our bank $21,315.43, and deposited something over $7,000."

Mr. Martin was recalled, and questioned about the drafts of the state treasurer which, he said, were not paid when the settlement was made, but were considered in the auditor's statement. "In 1893 when they drew I did not have the money, and then knew I was short. The drafts were from $12,000 to $16,000."

The prosecution rested with this, and M. B. Garrigue was called for the defense. He said:

"I was auditor when Martin took his office, and was present at the settlement. I did not assist, and don't think Dan Firestone did any counting. He figured up the amount. The receipt was read to Martin, and the amount was correct according to my figures. I saw Martin sign, and saw the money put in the vault. I remember seeing other money in the safe. There was a great deal of it."

The defense is still on.

WELLSVILLE.

NO GAS.

Wellsville Consumers Are Cold and Unhappy.

All residents of this place who depend on the supply of natural gas for heat are in bad humor. For days they have been shivering and shaking as they never shivered and shook before. In many residences it was found necessary to remove the gas fixtures and substitute coal, while in houses where this was impossible there was actual suffering. The complaint is general, and many have been heard to assert that they will never try another winter with gas.

The cold has almost frozen out the Wellsville Gas Lighting company, and the blaze of a match is a good comparison with one of their lights. There is a great deal of objection.

THEY WANT A TRAIN.

Patrons of the Street Railway Are Weary of Cold Cars.

Patrons of the street railway who leave Wellsville for Liverpool each morning are seriously discussing the advisability of petitioning the Cleveland and Pittsburgh to run a special work train between the towns. Their grievance is that the cars are not properly heated. From good authority it is learned that railroad officials, if solicited, would put on the train, and the round trip fare would not be more than 11 cents.

SAVED BY SALT.

The Quick Action of a Young Woman Prevented a Fire.

Mrs. J. S. Windram hoped to increase the warmth in her house the other evening, and pine tops were thrown in the grate. A large blaze followed, and the flames breaking out caught the drapery. The fire was making rapid headway when Miss Windram seized a quantity of salt and threw it in the fire. Her presence of mind prevented what would doubtless have been a bad fire.

The Cleveland and Pittsburgh company are making preparations to store away all the ice the company will use on its lines the coming summer. Its commodious ice house is being completely renovated and repaired. All the ice will be cut at Cleveland, and shipped to this point for distribution.

The Methodist Episcopal church projected meeting is still in progress. It is said that at least 60 have been converted to date. Fifteen new members were added to the church one day this week.

TALK BUSINESS TODAY

Youngstown's Tin Mill Men In the City.

PRESIDENT GARLAND IS HERE

They Will Make No Proposition Until They Inspect the Different Sites—It Is a Good Plant and Will Bring Many People to Town.

Representatives of the tin company came to town this morning, and today inspected the sites offered by the city.

Mr. Morris came in from Wellsburg and T. H. Jeremiah and M. M. Garland from Pittsburgh. They were taken to the office of G. Y. Travis where J. E. McDonald, John Shrader, E. D. Marshall, J. R. Warner, S. J. Cripps and A. J. Boyce laid the matter before them. Newspaper men were not admitted to the conference. After dinner at the Thompson House the gentlemen were taken to Walker, and viewed the land offered by the syndicate. From there they went to East End, and then were taken to the Southside. The gentlemen expect to leave the city this evening.

"We will make no proposition until after we see the land," said Mr. Jeremiah. "We have a good thing, and have been in successful operation for a year. If we come here we will benefit Liverpool to the extent of 900 people."

Mr. Morris said the people of Wellsburg were anxious to have the plant.

Mr. Garland is president of the Amalgamated association, and one of the most powerful men in the labor world. He is not interested in the company, but is here to represent the Pittsburgh stockholders.

Mr. Dalley, of the glass company who want to locate here, telephoned J. R. Warner that their representative would be in the city later in the week, and his decision would be final.

GILFILLAN'S CONTRACT.

Franklin County Has Employed Him at Reduced Rates.

The people who objected seriously because the county commissioners paid Inquisitor Gilfillan a big percentage for collecting taxes will learn with interest that he made concessions before the commissioners of Franklin county would enter into a new contract. He had been receiving 20 per cent, but under the new arrangement will get but 18 on amounts less than $3,000, and 15 per cent on all above that figure.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Jan. 26, '97.
Jas. N. Hanley, Secretary Republican County Committee:

DEAR SIR:—Owing to the fact of Liverpool township having a candidate for prosecuting attorney, and one for county commissioner, I deem it best that I should withdraw from the race for the nomination of county treasurer, hoping that in four years from now I will be able to make a successful canvass for the office. He said he hoped it would keep the wolf from the door, as he was out of a job."

At this point the jury were taken to the treasurer's office, and viewed the place. Upon their return Morgan continued:

"When Kepner left the office he was gone 20 minutes. He had neither basket nor money when he returned. When I was going to East Rochester one time Kepner stopped me at New Garden, and asked how Martin was getting on, and how he came out at the examination. The 'Jesse' book was a memorandum in which the account between Martin and Kepner was kept. I can't recall when I last saw it, nor who was there. We hunted for it, but never found it."

John Sant, who examined the treasury when the deficit was found, was next. He said: "Early in life I was taught to be an expert accountant. I was employed by Martin's bondsmen, I think, although I have never been able to determine who I worked for. April 18, 1894, I began the examination. I took Kepner into the auditor's office, and asked him if there was not a written detailed statement of his settlement with Martin. He produced the treasurer's cash book, and, turning to where it was written that $23,421 had been turned over to Martin on the final settlement, he laid his hand on the figures, and said, 'There are the figures we settled by.' Judge Wells and I went to New Garden to see Kepner April 25, and took it with us. I asked what he turned over to Martin, and he again said it was $23,000 and something. He had forgotten. He said he positively remembered the amount, but had a receipt and would look it up."

On cross examination Sant said: "I expect to be paid for coming here to testify."

The next witnesses were Auditor Harvey, Deputy Frank Adams and Conrad Hune, who were present when Sant talked with Kepner. They corroborated what Sant had said.

Miss Martha Daley, who at the time the shortage was discovered was a deputy in Martin's office, said she talked with Kepner the morning he learned of Sant's discovery. Kepner told her it was a sorry day for him as Sant had found a mistake of Garrigues which would put him in the hole almost $8,000, and he guessed he would have to pay it.

Court convened this morning, and Edward Firestone was put on the stand. He testified: "Sept. 2, Kepner drew from our bank $21,315.43, and deposited something over $7,000."

Mr. Martin was recalled, and questioned about the drafts of the state treasurer which, he said, were not paid when the settlement was made, but were considered in the auditor's statement. "In 1893 when they drew I did not have the money, and then knew I was short. The drafts were from $12,000 to $16,000."

The prosecution rested with this, and M. B. Garrigues was called for the defense. He said:

"I was auditor when Martin took his office, and was present at the settlement. I did not assist, and don't think Dan Firestone did any counting. He figured up the amount. The receipt was read to Martin, and the amount was correct according to my figures. I saw Martin sign, and saw the money put in the vault. I remember seeing other money in the safe. There was a great deal of it."

The defense is still on.

WELLSVILLE.

NO GAS.

Wellsville Consumers Are Cold and Unhappy.

All residents of this place who depend on the supply of natural gas for heat are in bad humor. For days they have been shivering and shaking as they never shivered and shook before. In many residences it was found necessary to remove the gas fixtures and substitute coal, while in houses where this was impossible there was actual suffering. The complaint is general, and many have been heard to assert that they will never try another winter with gas.

The cold has almost frozen out the Wellsville Gas Lighting company, and the blaze of a match is a good comparison with one of their lights. There is a great deal of objection.

THEY WANT A TRAIN.

Patrons of the Street Railway Are Weary of Cold Cars.

Patrons of the street railway who leave Wellsville for Liverpool each morning are seriously discussing the advisability of petitioning the Cleveland and Pittsburgh to run a special work train between the towns. Their grievance is that the cars are not properly heated. From good authority it is learned that railroad officials, if solicited, would put on the train, and the round trip fare would not be more than 11 cents.

SAVED BY SALT.

The Quick Action of a Young Woman Prevented a Fire.

Mrs. J. S. Windram hoped to increase the warmth in her house the other evening, and pine tops were thrown in the grate. A large blaze followed, and the flames breaking out caught the drapery. The fire was making rapid headway when Miss Windram seized a quantity of salt and threw it in the fire. Her presence of mind prevented what would doubtless have been a bad fire.

Youngstown's Tin Mill Men In the City.

PRESIDENT GARLAND IS HERE

They Will Make No Proposition Until They Inspect the Different Sites—It Is a Good Plant and Will Bring Many People to Town.

Representatives of the tin company came to town this morning, and today inspected the sites offered by the city.

Mr. Morris came in from Wellsburg and T. H. Jeremiah and M. M. Garland from Pittsburgh. They were taken to the office of G. Y. Travis where J. E. McDonald, John Shrader, E. D. Marshall, J. R. Warner, S. J. Cripps and A. J. Boyce laid the matter before them. Newspaper men were not admitted to the conference. After dinner at the Thompson House the gentlemen were taken to Walker, and viewed the land offered by the syndicate. From there they went to East End, and then were taken to the Southside. The gentlemen expect to leave the city this evening.

"We will make no proposition until after we see the land," said Mr. Jeremiah. "We have a good thing, and have been in successful operation for a year. If we come here we will benefit Liverpool to the extent of 900 people."

Mr. Morris said the people of Wellsburg were anxious to have the plant.

Mr. Garland is president of the Amalgamated association, and one of the most powerful men in the labor world. He is not interested in the company, but is here to represent the Pittsburgh stockholders.

Mr. Dalley, of the glass company who want to locate here, telephoned J. R. Warner that their representative would be in the city later in the week, and his decision would be final.

WILL H. GRIGGS WITHDRAWS.

He Will Not Be a Candidate For Treasurer.

Will H. Griggs today gave out the following letter:

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Jan. 26, '97.
Jas. N. Hanley, Secretary Republican County Committee:

DEAR SIR:—Owing to the fact of Liverpool township having a candidate for prosecuting attorney, and one for county commissioner, I deem it best that I should withdraw from the race for the nomination of county treasurer, hoping that in four years from now I will be able to make a successful canvass for the office. Respectfully,
WILL H. GRIGGS.

The doctor should go to the legislature.

Look At It

in the right light. Think it over carefully. Which is worse—a little care and attention given to the eyes now—or trouble all the rest of your life. Don't forget that all large things grow from small things. Don't forget that a little smarting, or aching, or pain means something—are the seeds from which blindness grows. It costs nothing to be sure your eyes are in a healthy condition. Why not be sure?
